

Women Leaders - Connected by Courage

The Bravest Path -
A courage building
consultancy
focused on smart risk taking and brave leadership.

Feedback from participants who have attended our programmes:

"This programme isn't here to teach you how to be a great female leader but to unlock everything that you already have within. It's a journey of self-discovery where you'll meet like-minded women who will tread the path with you. You'll leave the programme feeling awakened, stronger and better equipped to navigate your challenges."

"I've seen such an increase in my confidence, my inner mentor is providing advice as much as my inner critic is nagging me,

Women face unique challenges and barriers at work and despite significant progress over the years, gender disparities persist in leadership positions, wage gaps, and opportunities for advancement. However, we firmly believe that by fostering courage within women, we can help break through these barriers and unleash female leaders' full potential.

Courage plays a pivotal role in the growth of any individual, but it holds particular significance for women due to the societal and cultural expectations they often navigate.

By encouraging and equipping women with the tools to develop courage, we empower them to navigate challenges, assert their ideas, and pursue their ambitions with unwavering confidence.

To further this mission, we are excited to introduce our Women in Leadership Programme.

This cross industry and geography offering is designed to address the unique needs of women in the workplace, focusing on building confidence, resilience, and assertiveness. By nurturing courage within participants, our program aims to unlock their leadership potential and create a pipeline of empowered women leaders within your organization.

Our Women in Leadership Programme offers a range of valuable resources and activities:

1. Courage-Building Workshops: Engaging workshops led by industry experts, focusing on various aspects of courage development, including overcoming self doubt, letting go of what others may think, radical self care and building your voice.
2. Personalized Coaching: One-on-one coaching sessions tailored to individual needs, helping women identify their strengths, navigate challenges, and cultivate leadership skills.
3. Inspirational Speaker Series: Inviting accomplished women leaders from diverse fields to share their experiences, challenges, and strategies for success.
4. Peer Support Groups & Networking Opportunities: Facilitating small group coaching where participants can share insights, challenges, and victories, fostering a strong sense of community and collaboration.

Previous participants on our Women In leadership programme have come from: Microsoft, The Marketing Store, Zayo, Ceridian, NHS, Discovery, Office for health improvement and disparities.

and I'm balancing my leadership warmth/strength in a way I didn't before." Director of Workforce Policy & Planning

"I have the tools and insights to be a courageous leader...I know that I do have what it takes to be successful and remembering this experience will remind me of that." Enterprise Sales Director, Zayo
