

It's time to elevate the pumping at work experience the right way

75% of expecting mothers are excited to go back to work after giving birth, but 43% of them end up leaving their jobs

The current cost of employee turnover averages 2X an employee's annual salary

But...

Companies with lactation support programs have a 94% retention rate in comparison to the 59% national average

The facts are simple:

Your pumping employees need to pump on a regular schedule to maintain a healthy milk supply.

MilkMate streamlines logistics by providing everything that is needed to pump at work, allowing parents to bring nothing with them.

Learn more about how MilkMate makes breast pumping in the workplace easier and more efficient than any other option on the market.
