Masquerade Mask

The Lesson

Protecting Your Mind

Uncovering the true source can be difficult in a world of filters, deep fakes, and misinformation. It's important to think critically about the content we consume before believing what we see at face value.

Don't be misled by the sparkling mask of a sensational rumor and always look for a primary source of truth based on facts.

Use sites such as <https://www.factcheck.org/> or <https://www.snopes.com/> to debunk rumors, and always ask a parent, guardian, or trusted teacher if you are unsure about anything you see or hear in this age of misinformation.

Let's channel our imagination crafting a mask to hide our true identity.
